EDITORIAL

Journal of Widya Medika Junior Volume 2 No.2, April 2020, is our sixth publication since we established this journal to provide a publication avenue for our students to share the work they do during their studies, in hope to cultivate their passion in research and scientific publication. In this issue we continue present articles covering various medical fields, with a focus on topics covering geriatric medicine and family medicine – the two preeminence of our faculty. The articles on geriatric discussed medical rehabilitation and Geriatric Depression Scale (GDS); mean exercise duration and fine motor speed; insomnia levels in elderly before and after lavender treatment; sleep quality before and after yoga exercise. Articles on family medicine discussed Visual Inspection with Acetic Acid (VIA) positive result and passive smoker; computer vision syndrome and attention in workers; and an overview of Acute Limb Ischemia (ALI). Other topics also included in this issue include: Antibacterial effect of olive (Olea Europaea). We hope these articles can prove to be a meaningful contribution to medical knowledge and the society, as this journal continuous to be mature and reach wider audience.
